Antioch Over Top With $674.00 in March of Dimes

Contributions $101 More Than Last Year, Roy Kufalk Says

Antioch more than reached its goal in the March of Dimes campaign, Roy I. Kufalk, local chairman, announced yesterday.

The grand total was $674, which was $101 more than the total last year and $74 more than the goal set. The coin boxes yielded $115.45 and direct donations, $27. Mail contributions were $71.65.

The biggest income was from the theatres which provided a total of $280.13. The schools were next with $138.60.

The special bowling match exhibition at the Recreation lanes brought $41.17.

Kufalk said that contributions are still coming in and while the campaign is officially over, those organizations that want to participate may still do so.

"I'm sure that we cannot have too much on hand to take care of emergencies should they arise," said Kufalk. "Last year the county needed more than it raised and had to receive help from the National Foundation."

Kufalk thanked those who responded so well to the appeal but said that their real thanks would be in the sure of the many Lake county patients with infantile paralysis.

Kidera Contracts to Build New Fire Barn for $27,940

Ed J. Kidera of Lake Villa obtained the contract for the construction of Antioch's new fire department building his week.

The village board accepted his bid of $27,940 after the lowest bidder, the Rymont Construction Co. dissolved.

Kidera's bid does not take into consideration the plastering and decorating as did the Rymont bid and it will be necessary to have other bids for that work. That cost is estimated at $1,200.

Kidera suggested that instead of a sub-floor or basement an addition 30 x40 could be built for the same money, but the board decided to leave the plans as originally accepted by the firemen. The big cost is the flooring to bear the weight of the heavy trucks.

The Lake Villa contractor was willing to furnish bond immediately.

The board also decided to seek bids for the construction of a floor ing for the present fire station, which is not strong enough to bear the new truck when it arrives. The old building must be used until the new one is constructed.

Lake Villa Men's Club To See Motion Picture Of Big Lumber Industry

The Lake Villa Community Men's club will see a motion picture "Green Harvest" at its dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the school gymnasium.

Mrs. Grace Timmersman will play the solo organ during the serving of the dinner by the W. S. C. S.

The picture to be shown afterwards is a new release in color showing the making of lumber from the time the seedling is planted until the tree leaves the Warehouse Lumber Co. in Washington as finished lumber.

The club will discuss the annual show as a means of producing revenue. There is a call this year for a professional production instead of an amateur one, Adam Dick, chairman, said, but the matter will be left to the club members.

Plans for the March meeting call for the showing of pictures of the last world's series in baseball.

Lake Villa Will Vote on New Sewage Disposal System Next Tuesday

Public Meeting Friday Nite at Village Hall There Is Called

A public meeting will be held at the village hall in Lake Villa at 8 p. m. Friday for discussion of the proposed sewage disposal system election next Tuesday.

The pros and cons will be delved into according to officials of the village who want the voters well informed when they go to the polls in a referendum to decide on the disposal system and a bond issue to pay for it.

The village was made the object of court action by the state last fall when the board of health enjoined it from emptying sewage into Deep lake. The village was also blocked in its efforts to emptying its sewage in the waste land south of the village limits.

Now the only apparent move left is to install a sewage treatment plant.

Rising Interest Rate Costs Village $1,500 On Sewage Bond Issue

Disposal Plant to Be Built by May—Village Has Money Ready

A drop in the bond market and the subsequent increase in interest rates cost the village of Antioch $1,500 representatives of the White-Phillips, and Barcus-Kindred firms informed the board of trustees Tuesday evening in announcing the new issue of $32,000 water-sewer revenue bonds are ready.

Because the bond issue called for $32,000 of bonds at not more than 3 per cent, the bond houses will issue them for that amount and then be reimbursed by the city to the extent of $1,500 for the difference in value.

On question President George B. Bartlett informed the two representatives that the village is not only financially able to take care of that added expense but the $2,975 which the contract price for the sewage system calls for over the bond issue.

These amounts are in the water fund as earnings and in bonds from savings from earnings.

It was revealed that the water department has an earning of about $6,000 a year.

Engineer Miller of Great Lakes, who prepared the plans, said that the contractor already has much of the material here ready to start the construction of the improved sewage system, but still lacks pipe. With good weather the job can be completed in six weeks and it is expected that the contract will be completed by May.

The new water and sewer rates went into effect Monday, President Bartlett announced.

Audience Decision 4-1 Against U. M. C. After Debate Sunday Evening

Chicago Lawyer and Methodist Minister Argue Before Crowded Church

By a margin of nearly four to one a large audience which filled the Methodist Church Sunday evening expressed their disapproval of plans for compulsory military training for American youth.

The poll on UMT showing 4 for and 21 against followed a debate between Elliodor M. Libonati, Americanization chairman of the American Legion in Illinois and Rodney Shaw, former GI army chaplain and now a minister in Wisconsin.

Those favoring Universal Military Training thought that its strongest points were that it would be good for young men and that we would be more likely to win if we became engaged in another war. Those opposing UMT expressed the feeling that it was useless in an atomic age and that it would be a step toward further militarization of the nation.

Libonati, advocating compulsory military training, stated that the American Legion had been in favor of it since 1919 and that it was worthy of the support of those interested in national security and world peace. He said that any plan for UMT would assure that the morals of the trainees would be guarded and that a high standard of education would be provided. He also asserted that every man will be trained to serve the nation in an emergency.

"Aggressors do not attack a strong nation," he said. He pointed out that UMT is a program carefully calculated to safeguard the security and welfare of the American people. He explained in detail legislation which is pending in congress for UMT.

Shaw, opposing the plan, claimed that universal military training would endanger national security by training men for a kind of war that will not be fought in an atomic era in which guided missiles will play a leading role. He said that he had toured Fort Knox where experimental universal military training was carried on and remarked when he came away that he should have reminded them of the existence of the atomic bomb, pointing out that one of the atomic scientists had recently made a statement that in the first night of atomic warfare 40 million people would be killed in the United States.

Shaw asserted that many military men admit that it would require six months re-training period before men who had had UMT would be available for combat and that by that time an atomic war would be over. He went on to state that it would not frighten Russia for his nation to adopt UMT because Russia has 20 per cent more manpower than the USA, and "any nation that turned back the armies of Napoleon and Hitler on the same continent will not be frightened by a conscript army thousands of miles away."

In describing the experiment at Fort Knox Shaw charged that a civilian agency would be criminally prosecuted for fraud if it did what the army did there. He also charged that the army has always been two wars behind in its thinking, pointing out that the army was still using the cavalry long after it was outmoded.

School Principals Meet Arrange Career Day and Extend Baseball Season

Lake county high school principals meeting in the Antioch Township High school Wednesday afternoon planned a "Career Day" for non-college students, and in sports extended the baseball season to June 15.

The Career Day will be held on March 17 at Northbrook and will be an occasion for the counseling of high school students who do not plan to go to college but who are interested in a vocation. They will be given advice on various types of jobs and how to prepare for them.

The baseball season was extended two weeks so that there would be less conflict with track. Heretofore the season has ended in May.

All high schools in the county were represented except Ela. The school men came for a 4 o'clock meeting, had dinner, and then returned home in time for evening meetings.

Grade School Teams Win
The grade school basketball teams won from the Gavin school teams of Ingleside Tuesday evening. Next Tuesday Antioch will play Grayslake there.

Two-Front Drive for Lincoln Train Pushed in Village

Farm Supply Co. Buys Pana Refining Company

Purchase of the Pana Refining Company located at Pana, Illinois, was announced today by the Illinois Farm Supply Company, Chicago.

The Illinois Farm Supply Company is affiliated with the Illinois Agricultural Association which is the state organization of Farm Bureau.

The Illinois Farm Supply Company according to C. H. Becker, general manager, has purchased all of the outstanding capital stock of the Pana Refining Company and expects to continue the operation of the refinery under its present name for an indefinite period of time. It is planned to retain the present operating personnel of the company with E. G. Youngberg as general manager of the refinery. Three of the executive officers of the Pana Company, Sam D. Jarvis, C. Hayden Davis and Ray Hise, have agreed to remain for a period in an advisory capacity.

The purchase of the Pana Refining Company, according to Becker, represents a step forward by the Illinois Farm Supply Company to improve its supply position. "This is part of an all out effort to provide Farm Bureau members of Illinois with the essential fuels needed for farming," Becker said. The acquisition of this property will serve to alleviate the supply problem to a certain extent but will not be the complete solution, according to Becker.

We Live On Steel

The side of the steel picture which is most frequently presented to the public is concerned with shortages. It is high time we recognized some of the reasons for shortages. The causes lie in the changed manner of living and working of the American people.

Farming is a fine example. Not so long ago the horse and wagon were agriculture's main motive power. Now we have mechanized agriculture. The farmer's work is done with a long list of machines and tools, all of which involve steel—from an electric transformer to a big tractor. Steel is the very basis of present agricultural techniques. Here is one striking illustration of why the demand for steel has increased. Farm labor scarcity has caused the use of steel in countless appliances to maintain production.

The same thing is true throughout industry. Motors, the electric utilities, the oil industry, farm equipment manufacturers, makers of household labor-saving devices—all are expanding to meet an enormous and growing demand. Heavy industry, light industry, and consumer activity alike want steel in record quantities.

Steel is expanding, and a billion-dollar building program has been underway for some time. Steel has been plagued with strikes in its own and in related industries, such as coal, which cost the country vast tonnage. Its capacity is at a record peacetime level. We're hungry for steel because of a pent-up demand of unimaginable proportions.

Are We Ready To Sell Out?

Continued inflation promises to make price control the number one domestic political issue of the year. The controversy over price control is in some respects similar to the acrimonious debate over how to prevent the spread of communism in Europe. Economic security is emphasized as the foundation of faith in the institution of democratic government. The fear is prevalent that the people of the United States, as well as the people of Europe, will abandon their faith if confronted with the appalling instability of uncontrolled inflation and disruption of traditional material values. This approach is tragically false. It denies the existence of ideals and principles which set man apart from the lower animals. It is resulting in proposals that here in our own country will wipe out freedom even before the pinch of postwar dislocations are really felt. These proposals would involve extension of governmental activity and authority on a scale that would irreparably injure the cause of freedom for which countless hundreds of thousands of American citizens have given their lives, from the revolutionary war to the present.

During the next year, campaign promises and demagogic speeches will be the order of the day. If there is one thing above all others of which we must be wary, it is schemes to combat inflation which undermine representative government by empowering a centralized government to "direct" the productive activities of the people. Even if such devices could control inflation—and history has proven they can't—the price would still be too high.

We should remember during this coming year that the dignity of the individual measured in terms of personal freedom from political coercion of any sort, is priceless. It cannot be traded, bought or compromised, either in Europe or in the United States. It can be preserved only so long as people continue to give it a higher value than any other possession—including life itself.

Blood Money

During the recent war, huge government borrowing against future tax payments of private citizens to meet insatiable military needs, set off an economic chain reaction of incalculable extent. Some people commit the error of labeling the present phase of this reaction prosperity. In a State of the Union message to Congress, the President went so far as to boast that "The amazing economic progress of the past ten years points the way for the next ten . . . In no other ten years have farmers, businessmen and wage earners made such great gains."

The President should be reminded that during those ten years millions died in combat. Never had history witnessed such appalling destruction of life and property. Never had sorrow and bitterness visited the earth on such a vast scale. Never had the cause of mankind seemed so dark.

There are some who will view the President's remark as sheer sacrilege. Ten more years of this kind of "progress" would mean the destruction of civilization.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schneider announce the birth of their third child, a son, at Condell hospital in Libertyville, early Sunday, Feb. 1.

The Royal Neighbors Officers club held a meeting Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Elizabeth Anzinger at Grass Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Tulley and children have gone to Chicago to spend the rest of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Marks, of Chesney Farms, have returned from a two week vacation trip to Florida.

Mrs. Irving Vaughan, of IV Acres on Rt. 59, west of the village, entertained a number of ladies at a luncheon, at her home last Wednesday afternoon in honor of her birthday anniversary. Her guests were Mrs. Herbert Vos, Mrs. Harry Krueger, Mrs. L. J. Zimmerman, Mrs. Col. Turner, Mrs. W. A. Biron and Mrs. F. J. Arnold, all of Antioch and Lake Catherine vicinity; Mrs. James Allen, of McHenry; Mrs. Gustave Schoppe, of River Forest; Mrs. T. O. Reube, of Wooster Lake; Mrs. Chas. Tillman, of Fox Lake, besides Mrs. Richard Lynn and Mrs. Thomas Coffman, Mrs. Paul Avery, Jr., Mrs. Wm. Weber, Mrs. Wm. Marks, Mrs. Thomas Gillispie and Mrs. Robert Guthridge, all of Lake Villa and vicinity. The ladies spent a delightful afternoon.

Frank Galiger was a Waukegan caller last Friday and called on his sister-in-law, Mrs. Fred Galiger, who lives there.

Sharon Langbein's fifth birthday anniversary was celebrated on Monday afternoon at her home when her mother entertained a number of Sharon's small friends at a party. The children played games and enjoyed the refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Hooper visited their daughter, Mrs. Traver Ellis, and family at Belvidere last Thursday.

The Lake Villa grade school basketball team played a practice game with the Warren High school freshman team last Thursday afternoon. The game was an unusual affair as the Warren boys refused to play ball.

The game got under way as usual but after a few minutes of play the Warren boys found they were unable to penetrate the Lake Villa defense. After realizing they were helpless,

Warren took the ball on a throw-in, advanced it past the ten second line and refused to play until the Lake Villa boys used a different type of defense. Lake Villa was unable to make a substitution, as Warren had possession of the ball. Warren refused to pass the ball, but allowed the same boy to hold the ball the entire second quarter. The Lake Villa boys were very disgusted to think that a team would take such an attitude but continued their good sportsmanship by playing as the Warren boys wanted them to. The rest of the game was very fast, but the real game spirit was gone. Warren won by a slim three points, but the Lake Villa boys won a moral victory.

HOW TO SAVE HALF THE WINTER FUEL
BILL TOLD BY UNIVERSITY

Rising coal and fuel oil prices give added point information released by the Small Homes Council at the University of Illinois telling about home insulation, which can save as much as one-half the winter fuel bill—one shovel of coal from every two.

Fifty per cent is the saving estimate for a typical two-story frame house with wood or shingle siding to which tight storm windows and doors, four inches of insulation between ceiling joist and three and five-eighths inches between wall studs is applied.

The facts about insulation and fuel saving, many resulting from years of careful research at the University, are presented in a free eight page non-technical circular. The high spot in it is a table showing reductions in a fuel bill possible in eight typical types of construction for one-story and two-story homes.

Benefits of insulation, the circular says, include greater comfort by making walls and window surfaces warmer, reducing drafts, and making heat more uniform; cooler houses in summer; and money saved by reducing fuel needs and requiring a smaller heating plant or less load on existing equipment. Also walls and ceilings are cleaner because dust and dirt do not gather on warm surfaces as they do on cold.

Good insulation will not attract insects and mice and will not form fire hazard, will not absorb moisture and get soggy and will not deteriorate or settle, the circular explains.

Born Early in the Year? Then You Get a Break

Springfield—Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett had good news today for Illinois motorists whose present drivers' license cards carry an expiration date of May 1, 1948.

Those cards are good he said until the holder's first birthday after May 1, 1948.

Here's how the law works, Secretary Barrett said:

If your birthday falls in the months from May through December, your current license expires on your birthday this year—1948.

If your birthday occurs in the months of January, February, March or April, then your current license card is good until your birthday in 1949.

And, "please don't send in your application until 30 days before your card expires," Secretary Barrett requested.

Originally when the Illinois Drivers' License law was passed, Secretary Barrett explained, all driver's licenses expired simultaneously every third year on May first. The amendment passed by the 64th General Assembly staggers the expiration dates according to the applicants' birthdays.

Kentucky Has Good Year
Kentucky university with Dale Barnstable, Antioch man as one of its forwards has won 18 of its 20 basketball games so far this season. After cleaning up around Chicago, the Colonels lost to Notre Dame Monday evening 64 to 55. Kentucky was ahead until the last few minutes.

Barnstable took over for Kentucky in the DePaul game when DePaul pulled within three points of the Wildcats in the second half. Coming off the bench in a surprise move Barnstable took 18 shots and scored eight field goals to put the game on ice.

Says the Chicago Herald-American: "The Wildcats' shooting, ball hawking, fine floor play and general performance stamped them as the best lake last Friday but the cause was club to appear in basketball's big house this season."

Police Save Boy Pinned In Chimney for 17 Hours

NEW YORK.—Wedged for 17 hours in the chimney of a five-story Harlem apartment building, Henry Bishop, 6, was rescued by police.

They cut a hole through the wall of an apartment and pulled the frightened but unhurt boy to safety.

Henry said he went to the roof to play, climbed to the top of the chimney and suddenly felt himself sliding down out of sight. His body lodged against debris 15 feet below the opening.

A neighbor who had gone to the roof heard Henry's weak cries and called police.

New Friend Admits Strangling Woman

Unemployed Handyman Tells the Police of Murder.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH. — The strangling of Mrs. Betty Ann Roberts was admitted orally, police reported, by an unemployed handyman who said he had known the comely 21-year-old victim only a few hours.

Detective Inspector Frank J. Sullivan and Assistant Prosecutor Roger C. McMahon indicated they would place charges against Dale Beauchamp, 25, after he had finished giving them a written statement.

Mrs. Roberts' body, a worn cotton dress wound tightly about the neck, was found stretched across the bed of her downtown Grand Rapids apartment. She was fully clothed.

Beauchamp, who is married, first told police he had found the woman dead when he came to the apartment to meet her after making her acquaintance three hours earlier in a bar.

Under questioning, the slightly built handyman admitted in his oral statement that he killed Mrs. Roberts in her home "because she called me bad names."

After leaving the bar, the officers said Beauchamp told them, the couple drove to a lake outside the city, parked for a time and then returned to the apartment. There, Beauchamp was quoted as saying, Mrs. Roberts began to call him names.

"I told her I wouldn't take those names from anyone, not even my wife," the officers said he related. "But she kept yelling at me and I told her to shut up or I'd tie her up. When she kept hollering, I tied her up with the dress and left."

Sullivan said Beauchamp told him he then bought some coffee and returned to his home in suburban Comstock Park, but began to wonder later whether he had killed the woman, and went back to the apartment.

Unable to determine whether she was dead, he told the authorities he called the apartment caretaker, Mrs. Donald Kraft, who summoned police.

The victim's husband, Forrest, told police he had been at work all day at a bakery and had no knowledge of his wife's slaying until called by police.

'Pal' on Train Vanishes With $14,150 Life Savings

DETROIT, MICH. — Instead of looking for a new home in Detroit, Joseph Raczowski, 62, spent his first hours here looking over the pictures of pickpockets.

Raczowski lost his life's savings of $14,150—$700 in cash and $13,450 in two cashier's checks—as he stepped off a train here.

He told detectives that his seat companion on the ride here from Buffalo—a young, affable man—bumped into him as they started to get off the Michigan Central train.

After the bump, Raczowski felt for his wallet, discovered it was gone, and looked up to discover his affable friend was gone, too.

"I'd just sold my farm near Swyersville, Pa.," Raczowski said, "Me and my wife and son and daughter were coming to Detroit to live near my oldest son, Stanley."

Prisoner 'Eats Up' Jail Fixtures—Not Iron Bars

LAS VEGAS, NEV. — William Kmetetz, 28, a jail prisoner here, pried a dozen small wire springs off a cell bunk and swallowed them. Kmetetz, held for San Diego police on a worthless check charge, was treated and returned to his cell. Then he broke an overhead light fixture and swallowed a quantity of glass. He was taken to a hospital. Police Chief George Thompson, weary of the routine, asked San Diego authorities to hurry up and get Kmetetz "before he eats up our nice new jail."

Bonds Lost in Tornado Slowly Finding Way Back

OLEAN, N. Y.—Money thrown to the winds is slowly finding its way back to its owner, Harry Latham of Warren, Ohio.

A tornado last June leveled Latham's home and scattered several of his war bonds over two states. One bond was found by 17-year-old Loretta Putt, of Olean, in her father's hayfield. Latham reported seven other bonds have been returned from various points in Pennsylvania.

Car of Milk Pledged
When the Abraham Lincoln Friendship Train leaves Chicago on February 12, it will be carrying a load of dairy products purchased by the people of Lake County.

The Abraham Lincoln Friendship Train was conceived as a project to avert the starvation of millions of little children throughout Western Europe, according to Mr. E. E. Elsbury, Gurnee, Chairman of the Lake County Abraham Lincoln Friendship Train project. Other officers are Ray T. Nicholas, Secretary, and R. J. Dwyer, First National Bank of Mundelein, treasurer.

Through no fault of their own, entire populations of many European countries are destined to starvation. Little children beg their mothers for food which is not available.

The Abraham Lincoln Friendship Train is a project covering many states. Lake County people can help fill the train.

How You Can Help
Everyone in Lake County can help by making cash contributions to purchase a carload of powdered milk. Since it is impossible for farmers to ship their milk directly to Europe, they have been asked to make cash contributions along with those from villages and cities.

All cash contributions should be sent to Mr. R. J. Dwyer, First National Bank of Mundelein, Ill., or to the Lake County Farm Bureau office, Grayslake. All money must be in the hands of the treasurer by February 9. On that date, the county committee will purchase the carload of powdered milk, which will be picked up by the Friendship Train passing through Chicago.

"The gifts will go through Church channels all the way," stated Mr. E. E. Elsbury.

The Christian Rural Overseas program, sponsored by Church World Service, Inc., will be responsible for transmitting the car of dairy products to the Eastern Seaboard, where it will be turned over to the church agencies. These church relief agencies have a wonderful record of distribution. In past programs, less than one percent has been lost in handling and distribution, and this was covered by insurance.

A pledge coupon appears in this paper for those desiring to use it in making their contributions.

Veterinarians to Battle Animal Diseases With Dr. Jensen as Leader

Jensen Made Chairman

The legislature will be asked by the veterinarians to appropriate $50,000 for research into Bang's disease, which Doctor Jensen, chairman of the Association's standing committee on the disease, declared to be the most destructive infectious disease of cattle in Illinois, also causing undulant fever in humans. Dr. W. A. Venzke, University of Ohio, gave first information on two new methods for determining whether reactions from tests for the disease come from active infection or are after-effects of vaccination.

"Animal and human health are so closely related that public health officials rely upon the veterinary profession to recognize and eliminate animal diseases," said Dr. E. T. Anderson, Dixon, the Association's 1948 president. "Illinois farmers annually suffer heavy losses, amounting to many million dollars in 1947, which will be cut sharply and may finally be virtually wiped out as livestock and poultry diseases are brought more under control," he declared. Doctor Anderson, who came out of World War II as a major in the Army Air Forces, now owns an airplane in which he flies from farm to farm in his professional practice.

Animal health authorities from seven states, Washington, D. C. and Toronto took part in three days' deliberations. Dr. C. E. Fidler, Lewis-town, outgoing president, attacked the practice of employing laymen in certain Illinois areas in various poultry disease control activities which, instead, he asserted, call for professional service.

Six district organizations of veterinarians in Illinois will become part of the Association if its executive board approves the plan and it is ratified by the general membership. The change was proposed as a means for strengthening the practitioners' service to the state's farmers. Fifty-one additional veterinarians were elected to Association membership, bringing the total to almost 600.

Love at 60 Puts Swiss on Trial For War Crimes

Business Leader Is the First Non-German to Face Allied Court.

NUERNBERG, GERMANY. — Love at 60 has put Paul Haefliger in the prisoner's dock charged with high war crimes that could cost him his life.

Tall, bent and nervously excited, Haefliger looks like what he was—a high grade, top-flight executive. He is one of the 24 men charged with directing the fabulous L. G. Farbenindustrie, heart and brains of Hitler's industrial power.

He has another distinction—he is the first non-German to be a defendant here.

That point may be debatable because Haefliger has a dual citizenship. He is Swiss by birth and the Swiss government never cancelled his citizenship. But that gets into the story of Haefliger and love at 60.

It Was Like This— His record goes about like this: with his native Swiss talent, command of four languages and high ambition, Haefliger became a high paid Farben man while still in his 20s. By 1934, he was complaining that his income of 91,000 marks ($30,000) a year was too low.

From the Swiss side of the border, he handled Farben's huge magnesium interests. Nothing wrong with that, so far.

In 1934, when he was a full-blown expert, he became Swiss consul at Frankfurt, serving without pay, but retaining his connection with I. G. Farben. He held this post four years, until 1938, and then plunged into the greatly expanded Farben work as the war approached.

In 1941, Germany was top dog. Haefliger applied for and obtained German citizenship, surrendering his Swiss passport.

Haefliger rode with the Farben train until the end could be seen early in 1945. But then he fell in love and married—for a third time.

Arrested by U. S. Germany collapsed. Here was Haefliger, still a Swiss citizen, but also a German citizen by choice.

He could not go to Switzerland, a safe haven, unless he abandoned his new German wife. He refused to do that.

In 1946 he ran into the same German official who had granted him his German citizenship in 1941. Haefliger gave it back to him, didn't want any part of it. That seemed to solve his personal problem but it did not open the Swiss border to his wife.

Then he was arrested by U. S. war crimes prosecutors. He engaged a Swiss attorney to defend him.

But his fortune is frozen in Switzerland and the attorney said he would have to ask the Swiss government to make funds available for the defense.

This puts the Swiss on a spot: If they unfreeze for Haefliger, a man thrice decorated by Hitler, what happens to all the other frozen accounts of known Nazis?

The Swiss consul in Frankfurt said his government hasn't any interest in Haefliger, at least officially. As far as it is concerned, he is on his own defending himself as a German.

Dynamite Explosion by Five Youths Jolts Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES.—Five youths set off 50 pounds of dynamite in San Fernando valley, causing an explosion that was felt in Los Angeles.

Police in Los Angeles and Beverly Hills said startled men and women telephoned them to complain that they had been "knocked out of bed" by the blast.

The explosion was traced to five youths, three 19-year-olds, one 20 and one 17, who climaxed a night of fun by driving out to a place near Coldwater canyon, burying a wood box filled with dynamite and lighting it. The five boys were booked for blasting without a permit.

Diver Loses Life Settling Record for Depth Reached

TOULON, FRANCE. — Maurice Fargeus, a diver, set a new world record by descending 393.6 feet in the Mediterranean off Cape Cepet, but he lost his life.

Colleagues pulled Fargeus out unconscious after he had succeeded in breaking the previous mark of 295.2 feet attained by seven divers here last June.

Fargeus went over the side dressed only in bathing trunks and wearing a face mask connected with an oxygen bottle on his back. His position was indicated by pre-arranged tug signals.

Explosion in School Desk Shatters Hand of Student

YAKIMA, WASH. — Joan Brand, 9, student at McKinley grade school, reached into a desk during a music lesson at the school and an explosion shattered the class routine.

Miss Ruth Ecklund, school nurse, took the girl to St. Elizabeth hospital, where an amputation removed the shattered remnants of the child's right hand. The nurse said the explosion was caused by a dynamite cap which Joan had found in the street on her way to school.

SHORT STORY

Victory For a Moment

By
M. J. COLLINS

THE old ground hog was uneasy. Every few seconds she would stand upright, her bright eyes searching continually for the ever expected danger from some quarter. Each time the close scrutiny satisfied her and she would drop down and resume greedily eating the tender leaves of the young red clover. She was thin and shaggy. The three young groundhogs, eating the clover even more greedily than she, were the reason. This was the first time she had brought them up from the soft nest deep in the earth. The young ones revelled in the warm sunshine and the strange taste of what they were eating. They ranged farther away from their mother and the safety of the burrow unaware that danger lurked nearby.

A couple of noisy crows winged their way overhead but the old groundhog didn't pay them the slightest attention. She knew they weren't hawks who would bring death winging swiftly out of the sky for her young. She was getting full, yet she ate on, her stomach starting to swell. A familiar sound, behind her upright and little quivers of deathly fear, landed through her small brain. The dog, her implacable enemy, was bounding down the field. He saw the red-checked groundhog and read toward her.

With a shrill whistle she scurried towards her burrow, her brood close at her rump. As her young nuzzled, the shrill yapping of the dog penetrated clearly to her.

"Listen to that fool pup yapping his head off about by the creek. He's got a brain in his head. Never be as good as his mother." The slatternly-looking woman leaned in the cabin door, ready to find fault with anything.

"Yeah," her husband answered slowly. "She was all right, too bad she had to get killed on the railroad. Maybe I should get the 22 and go down and see what he's up to. If there's any groundhogs down there they'll be eatin' the heart out of the young clover."

"I'll go down, Dad," their young son cried. He grabbed a stick. "Bet he's got a big one cornered down there."

YOUNG Tad ran along by the stump fence until he reached the clover field. Climbing up on a stump he could see the pup down at the other end near the creek jumping around a small stonepile and barking furiously.

"Bet he has one," he said aloud and started to run.

"What you got, Tip?" Dropping on his stomach, he could see a groundhog crouched in between the safety of two large stones. Tad poked his stick in as far as he could but the groundhog only retreated further.

"Sic him! Get him out, Tip," he urged the excited pup.

"Guess we'll have to move some of these stones for you. Watch out now, or you'll get hurt." Tad began throwing stones aside. "Watch him, Tip." The pup saw the young groundhog and pounced on it savagely. For a few seconds he had a loose grip on it but the groundhog snapped back wickedly and with a surprised yipe the pup jumped away. The groundhog raced as fast as its short legs would go towards the safety of its burrow.

"Get it! Get it!" Tad screamed hoarsely with excitement. "Get him, boy!"

The pup was after it like a flash, his courage renewed. The escape of the groundhog was cut off only a few yards from safety. Urged on by Tad, the pup worried it but circled far enough out to be safe from those snapping teeth.

Suddenly the pup darted in and grabbed the groundhog by the back of the neck and shook him vigorously. The young groundhog gave a frightened little whistle.

Then something all snapping teeth, large and frightening, came leaping at the pup out of nowhere. Long sharp fangs sank cruelly into his rump. With a terrified yelp he dropped his victim and high-tailed it for the house.

Hearing the groggy, frightened young one ahead of her, the old groundhog disappeared down the burrow with a mocking, triumphant whistle.

Authorities Disagree
Some authorities claim that owls are dumb, others say that they are the geniuses of the bird world. They cannot see in the dark. The eyes of an owl are fixed in its head so that they cannot be moved and in order to change its line of vision the bird must change its position. No animal can see in the dark—owls can see in the moonlight or early dawn, apparently better than other animals or birds.

Thermostats for Women
Sensitive thermostats which take into consideration the fact that women are warmer-natured than men have been developed by Honeywell research workers for railroad passengers cars. Women require more heat than men. The new electronic thermostats can provide the exact temperature needed for comfort by a male and a female seated on opposite sides of a car.

Joker Joe Miller
Joe Miller, of "Joke book" fame, was an actor whose present renown in the field of humor came somewhat unjustly, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica. After Miller died in 1788, John Motley brought out a book called "Joe Miller's Jests," or "Wit's Vade Mecum." Of this collection of jokes, only three were told by Miller.

Sweet Dreams...
SLEEP IN WARM COMFORT
WITH AN ELECTRIC BLANKET

Wouldn't it be fun to double-cross the weather on cold winter nights? You'd sleep right through without getting up to hunt for extra blankets or waking to pull one from the foot of the bed. With an electric blanket or comforter you can blissfully ignore the thermometer... open the windows wide and slip into a bed already warm.

Even mounds and mounds of ordinary blankets only insulate from the cold... but an electric blanket or comforter produces just the right amount of warmth no matter how the temperature shifts. You set the automatic control only once a season—from then on the electric blanket adjusts automatically to changing room temperatures.

You'll wake refreshed and relaxed. The weight of layers of covers is tiring... one electric blanket or comforter gives you warmth without weight. "Cold spots" are banished, too—your bed is sunny warm all over.

Lovely electric blankets and comforters launder and clean as beautifully as ordinary blankets or comforters. The only difference lies in having only one per bed to launder and store for the summer months—not three or four.

You've been promising yourself a really good night's sleep for a long time... do something about it today.

For the details of real sleeping comfort...

National Heart Week Ends on Valentine Day; Better Check Your Heart

Terminating heart disease the "captain of the men of death", Dr. Roland R. Cross, Illinois director of public health, today called attention to National Heart Week, which will be observed throughout this country Feb. 8 to 14, inclusive.

"Leading all other causes of mortality by a wide margin, heart disease is responsible for one out of every three deaths in Illinois," Dr. Cross stated. He cited figure showing that out of 76,483 deaths reported in Illinois during the first 10 months of 1947, 28,247 were due to one or another of the various types of diseases of the heart.

He also pointed out that during the past 10 years deaths from heart disease in Illinois have increased from 24,907 in 1936 to 31,373 in 1946. These figures represent an annual mortality rate of 319 per 100,000 of the State's population in 1936 as against a rate of 383 in 1946.

"As deaths from heart disease continue to climb in Illinois, special attention may well be given to the observance of National Heart Week," Dr. Cross said. He urged health and civic organizations of the State to join the American Heart Association and its affiliated local groups in conducting educational programs designed to focus attention on this "serious" public health problem.

"While important advances have been made by medical science against diseases of the heart, there is a basic need for much additional information," Dr. Cross said. He pointed out that the major objective of the American Heart Association is to sponsor studies in the causes and treatment of various types of heart disease.
